KNOW-HOW

NEED

WWW.XPECTIS.COM

We do strongly believe in the individuality of IT solutions. Efficiency, reliability, consistency and scalability of developments must be based on a true understanding of the underlying infrastructures, the customer's needs and expectations, as well as on a pro-active use of technology and experience at hand. Today we have decided to change our name and launch Xpectis as a new solution provider relying on numerous years of experience in the financial and telecommunications markets. Tomorrow we will enable your IT projects to cope with the growing expectations and challenges of the future. Let us work together and synchronize our expectations.

VISION

MISSION

AS CLOSE AS WE CAN GET

Competing effectively in the world of modern business requires a rapid, but controlled development of new products through an innovative and cost-effective use of advanced technology. Although the Internet and electronic commerce have opened many new opportunities for business, realising this great potential entails building a strong bridge between business and technology. Without considerable expertise in both areas and the right equilibrium between them, companies will find it difficult, if not impossible, to compete in the new millennium.

Xpectis understands that mere automation alone is often not a solution, particularly if its cost-effectiveness cannot be justified, the supporting procedures are not properly adapted and the users have not been adequately trained. Improving efficiency and reducing costs must be more than mere slogans. These improvements only result from careful analysis and well-designed, thorough solutions, which are implemented on time.

TODAY

TOMORROW

EXPECT THE FUTURE

Xpectis is a leading provider of IT Solutions & Services to an expanding range of customers. Based upon an extensive experience in the financial and telecommunication industries, Xpectis offers solutions streamlined to your unique business requirements and insuring unparalleled ROI, let it be organisational or technology-driven.

Operating since 1995 as "3S" in the market, Xpectis offers today a new vision for IT consulting & development services. Bringing together senior management experience and the potential of multi-background, highly-qualified and outstandingly motivated personnel, we create teams that stand both for innovation and reliability. We go beyond traditional considerations of technology and development limitations and offer turnkey solutions that seamlessly bring together experiences of the past and your expectations of the future.

WE DO COMPETE FOR RESULTS

The IT business, as we know it, has fundamentally changed over the last decade. It has left its air-conditioned vaults and switched identity and perception, moving from a pure operational and technical craft to a highly vital component of business strategy and competitiveness.

Xpectis realises the challenges of modern IT business and meets the requirements of a constantly evolving market by offering a unique mix of competencies that break the traditional boundaries of IT and business consulting. In bringing together a team of highly-skilled professionals with explicit experiences in most industry sectors, technology domains and management structures, we build advanced customised solutions that excel in the conceptual and technical architecture they are built upon and that maximise efficiency by a straight through integration into your business infrastructure, let it be past, present or future.

OUR SERVICES

Project delivery Fulfilling expectations

Delivering projects for our customers comes down to understanding their needs and expectations, proposing an effective and broad mix of solutions and services that offer long term consistency and business impact and insuring cost-efficiency, quality and reliability.

It is with this perspective in mind that Xpectis is constantly involved in strategic customer projects, taking care of a complete service portfolio going from strategy and consulting to the development and implementation of technical solutions. Based upon a joint-team-approach, Xpectis gets involved at a very early stage in order to support the shaping and definition of the project. Continuous information exchange over the project's life cycle insures efficient communication, continuity and optimisation of implemented infrastructures and IT developments, let them be packaged or customised.

Consulting The “Trust” - Reward

Take one thing for real: you will only talk about real issues with a person you trust. We consider our customer’s projects as real issues and realise that only mutual trust will allow us to go forward and insure the best results for the money and effort that is being invested. Deserving our customer’s trust is one of our main challenges and we echo it by our unbiased commitment and dedication.

Building business relations upon trust comes down to building relationships between people that are trustworthy and whose advice can be counted on as being knowledgable, professional and targeted to the customer’s expectations. At Xpectis, we are proud to propose a team of people with top educational and professional backgrounds, offering high standing consulting services that cross the borders between strategical, business and technology consultancy.

Training Bridging the knowledge gap

As our working methods are very strongly team-oriented, let it be within Xpectis or in relation with our customers, we think it is very important to “speak the same language”, based upon a common level of knowledge. Further to our consulting services, our service portfolio does thus include explicit training propositions linked to our domains of competence, let it be in the telecommunications sector, the fund industry or others.

Products

With over seven years experience in the domains of finance and telecommunications, Xpectis has developed a broad range of IT solutions geared to the specific customer needs in this area. In touch with markets, we constantly strive to grow and evolve our product range according to industry needs.

Being aware of the limitations of a printed document we invite you to take a closer look at our website www.xpectis.com giving full details on our current range of products and services.
